

Will the school nurseries still be free, as an ex nursery owner I found the wealthier families got the places as they worked the system, also didn't need all day care, so poor working parents had to pay while richer ones got free care. This was before private sector got funding, that was a good day for nurseries and the under privileged