Chairman, HSSH Sub panel Telephone masts review,

Dear Alan,

Telephone masts sub panel review

The Sub-Panel has invited the views of the Comité des Connétable as to whether the introduction of additional telephone masts in their respective Parishes has resulted in additional costs for remedial work.

The Connétables advise that the Parishes could be affected by the increase as a result of roads being dug up and the cost of the overall road maintenance and improvements having to be borne by rate payers.

To date no such costs have been incurred by ratepayers but the Connétables are aware of potential costs for road repairs and resurfacing which could be incurred in future if the telecommunication companies do not undertake to resurface the complete road rather than reinstate only the trench they have dug.

Yours sincerely,

K P Vibert,
Chairman.
