

Social Security Overpayments – Submission from Anonymous 2

You want info of people who have overpayments here we go ! Every November I receive some inheritance which I have told them as soon as the last rent comes in and it's worked out between the [REDACTED] people I can get letter to them but from the start of October they start hassling me ! I thought I was allowed some savings!!! But no they see it as an income my [REDACTED] saw it as helping me it only around £[REDACTED]. Then I had my medical review it went upto 100% same building yet they don't talk if I had not kept phoning my repayments would of been longer as I kept say how unfair it was when they were so slow !! And was not asked if £21 was ok for me I was told ! This happens every 3 years if you want any more information please just ask
