DRAFT PLANNING AND BUILDING (JERSEY) LAW 200- (P.50/2001): FIFTH AMENDMENT

Insert after sub-paragraph (a), the following sub-paragraph -

“(b) where the building or place falls within the area of responsibility or concern of a Committee or a body or person created by statute, shall consult that Committee, body or person and shall take into account any representations made;”

Designate the subsequent sub-paragraph as (c).

AGRICULTURE AND FISHERIES COMMITTEE

Report

The listing of a building or place can substantially limit its use, for example, a marine area.

The Committee therefore considers that before the Planning and Environment Committee lists a building or place it should consult any other Committee (or body or person created by statute) that has responsibility or concern for the building or place.

It should also have an obligation to take into account any representations it receives.

This proposed amendment has no implications for the financial or manpower resources of the States.
