Ministerial Priorities

Underlying all of my priorities below is the recognition that during 2022 and 2023 the Island experienced unprecedented and deeply tragic incidents, which we will continue to feel the effects of for many years to come, and that Justice and Home Affairs services have been at the forefront of responding to these. I want to recognise the significant impact this has had on services which had already experienced periods of disruption further to organisational change, Brexit and the Covid-19 pandemic. In the aftermath of this challenging period, our services must be afforded the space to reflect and rebuild as the island continues to recover. As part of this staff wellbeing must be a primary consideration.

My priorities are:

1. Recognising the unprecedented demands arising from the tragic major incidents in 2022 and 2023, ensuring that our teams are supported through the recovery phase.
2. Ensuring Justice and Home Affairs (JHA) frontline services are appropriately funded, supporting an engaged and productive workforce to operate effectively, efficiently and perform their statutory functions and addressing significant pressures and key risks affecting JHA Services by:
 - embedding investment in the Fire and Rescue and Ambulance Services to address pressing issues in relation to demand and capacity, risk, governance and compliance with modern professional standards.
 - implementing the future resourcing model for the Ambulance Service, further to the findings of the Association of Ambulance Chief Executives Review Report 2021 and the Demand and Capacity Review,
 - continuing to invest in public and firefighter safety to address significant risks due to inadequate resources, concerns about the service's succession planning and the inability to attract specialist or senior talent from outside Jersey, as highlighted in the National Fire Chiefs Council/Local Government Association Peer Review Report 2022.

- reforming fire safety, including development of new fire precautions legislation, fireworks, and responding to Grenfell Tower Inquiry recommendations and UK Building Safety Programme.
- continuing to develop the existing Emergency Services Control Centre, focusing on resilience. Work with each JHA service to embed appropriate governance structures and increase compliance with national standards.
- investing in dedicated data and analytical capability to understand if our community is getting safer, the stories behind key trends in crime and disorder and which interventions are working, which are not, and why
- striving to achieve good value for money, whilst ensuring delivery of essential statutory services in the context of limited public resources
- supporting officers to take forward the departmental People and Culture, Strategic Workforce, Wellbeing and Diversity, and Equity and Inclusion plans, ensuring that public service values are demonstrated in everything we do

- creating a new building a safer community framework to replace the previous Building a Safer Society Strategy (BaSS), which lapsed in 2019.

- developing and delivering a community safety programme for schools as part of an overarching strategic focus on early intervention, filling the gap left after Prison! Me! No! Way! (PMNW) was discontinued.

4. Developing and delivering a modern and effective youth justice policy by reviewing the findings of the previous youth justice reviews and the latest available evidence of effective practice, working with the Minister for Children and Education.

5. Responding to the findings and recommendations of the Violence Against Women and Girls Taskforce, initiating work to improve women's safety and experience of the criminal justice system.

10. Enshrining a rehabilitative culture within the Prison Service with an intention of 'releasing better neighbours' by:
