

Alison Johnson – Submission – 28 May 2021

I am concerned that more and more old people villages will be built, effectively placing anyone over 60 into an age related ghetto. It cannot be right to shut off one section of society based on age. I fear that most current builds are aimed at young and first time buyers, and I think they will get the prime attention and locations.