Explanatory Note

This draft Law amends the Fire Service (Jersey) Law 1959 (“the principal Law”) so as to change the name of the service and increase the penalties that may be imposed in respect of offences. The penalties have not been altered since the principal Law was enacted.

Article 1 is the interpretation provision.

Article 2 amends the principal Law so as to change the name of the States of Jersey Fire Service to the States of Jersey Fire and Rescue Service and provides for existing references to the service, whether in legislation or elsewhere, to be construed accordingly.

Article 3 amends the principal Law so as to -

- (a) increase from £25 to level 3 on the standard scale (£2,000) the maximum fine for the offence of obstructing a fireman or police officer engaged in fire-fighting operations;
- (b) increase from £100 for a first offence and £5,000 for a subsequent offence to a single penalty of level 4 on the standard scale (£5,000), the maximum fine for the offence of setting a fire which spreads so as to cause damage to another person’s property;

- (c) make it clear that an unlimited fine may be imposed in lieu of or in addition to a term of ten years' imprisonment for the offence of maliciously setting fire to another person's property.

Article 4 is the citation and commencement provision.
