THE STATES adopted the proposition of the Privileges and Procedures Committee, as amended, and –

- (a) agreed that a system of registration of political parties should be introduced in Jersey, and that under the system –
- (i) any political organisation that wished to endorse candidates for election to the States should be able to apply to the Royal Court for registration as a political party;
  - (ii) any application for registration as a political party would need to comply with certain conditions, namely that it should –
    - (1) be accompanied by a copy of the party's constitution which would, inter alia, have to specify that the party had as an objective the endorsement of candidates for election to the States;
    - (2) set out the party's full name (which could not be longer than 6 words) together with any abbreviation of that name and any party emblem;
    - (3) give the registered address in Jersey of the party and the name of its leader, treasurer and secretary ('the officials') all of whom would have to be registered as electors under the Public Elections (Jersey) Law 2002;
    - (4) be supported by at least 20 persons registered as electors under the Public Elections (Jersey) Law 2002;
    - (5) be accompanied by the party's most recent statement of accounts;
    - (6) be accompanied by the required registration fee;
  - (iii) the Royal Court should be entitled to refuse any application for registration if –
    - (1) the application did not meet any of the conditions set out in sub-paragraph (ii) above;
    - (2) if the proposed name, abbreviation or emblem were the same as those already registered by another party, or so similar as to cause confusion;
    - (3) if the proposed name, abbreviation or emblem were offensive, obscene or otherwise, in the Court's opinion, inappropriate, or so similar to those used by any other organisation as to cause confusion;
  - (iv) registered political parties would be required to provide details of any changes in the identity of their officials to the Court within 10 working days of any changes and to supply to the Court an annual statement of accounts within 3 months of the end of their financial year;

- (v) a Register of political parties, setting out the names of all registered parties, the names of their officials and the most recent statement of accounts, would be maintained by the Judicial Greffier and made available for public inspection on request;
  - (vi) a registered political party would be de-registered and removed from the Register if it did not meet the requirements set out in sub-paragraph (iv) above or if it did not endorse any candidates for election to the States for a continuous period of 5 years;
- (b) agreed that any candidate for election to the States who was endorsed by political party should be permitted, subject to appropriate confirmation of the endorsement on the nomination paper by 2 of the registered officials, to have the name of the party, or its abbreviation, entered on the ballot paper alongside his or her name; and
- (c) requested the Privileges and Procedures Committee to bring forward for approval the relevant legislation to give effect to the proposals so that they can be in place before the elections in the autumn of 2008.
