

Hi,

Since most civil unrest seems to stem from, or be fueled by, alcohol, perhaps all the clubs and pubs on the island should contribute towards policing costs. Actually, if we are to take this to its logical conclusion, anyone found guilty of committing a crime should be forced to make a contribution to police and court costs.

I have no vested interest in Jersey Live, but it seems unfair to me to try to make a sole case for this event.

SB