

Anonymous caller as a result of the radio advertising - 20.02.09

The caller was upset that Income Support provided a particular individual with £300 a week when they were on a heroin rehab programme and yet when her own job was lost and she had no means to pay the mortgage she was not helped. Also she is just above the bracket and cannot get funding for her teenage son to go to University. She will have the same problem for her second child.