MINISTER FOR ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

REPORT

This amendment would change two maximum penalties in the Draft Harbours (Inshore Safety) (Jersey) Regulations 201- –

- (a) in the case of giving false or misleading information in an application or notice, from level 2 (£500) to level 3 (£2,000);
- (b) in the case of failure to provide information about a serious incident involving a ship or giving false or misleading information about such an incident, from level 3 (£2,000) to level 4 (£5,000).

The amendment would ensure closer harmony with penalties for similar offences in other legislation applying in Jersey.

Financial and manpower implications

There are no financial or manpower implications for the States arising from this amendment.
