

Hlya

I just wanted to add that I feel it is the government's duty to save us from the banking cartel who are blatantly trying to do away with cash

Without cash, they will be able to track everything and program our money so if they do not want us to buy something then they can just refuse the transaction

This is not freedom. Cash gives us that

What about all those who have been made bankrupt or cannot get a bank account? My own son couldn't get 1 for years so this is dangerous so we do not ostracise people from society

God forbid we have an internet outage and we are all screwed then including you lot

Thats my 2 pence worth

Thanks for listening

Tony
