

There appears to be increasing frustration across the island at the way the new hospital project is steaming ahead in the face of what seems to be considerable opposition.

Is there any way that we can have an island-wide vote on the two most basic issues (the choice of site and the level of borrowing) before the project goes any further?