Dear Sirs

With reference to your advert in the JEP dated 5/2/07 asking for opinions regarding “ Would you like a New Supermarket in St Peter ? “.

My St Ouen business supplies fresh pre-packed Seafood to the CO-OP and I wonder if a new supermarket chain were to open, would they import their own brand of Seafood (obviously not as fresh as mine), and therefore undermine my sales to the CO-OP.

My Fish Shop in the St Helier Fish Market may also be affected as shoppers will migrate to a New out-of-town Shopping Centre with easier parking.

My family shopping, done by my wife, will undoubtedly see new packaging ( probably around the same products) in our larder and fridge. However, if this is to the detriment of my business, and offering no price saving to my family, after an inevitably short honeymoon attraction period, then I would have to ask myself is it really necessary.

Finally, with the new 0-10 Tax System. Will a Non-Local Supermarket chain pay any Jersey Tax?

Yours faithfully
