R&O.54/2024.

Telecommunications Law Amendment (Jersey) Commencement Order 2024.

Minister for Sustainable Economic Development.

This Order brings the Telecommunications Law (Jersey) Amendment Regulations 2024 (the “Regulations”) partially into force on 1 October 2024.

The Regulations insert new Part 5A (Articles 24A to 24ZI and Schedules 1-3) into the Telecommunications (Jersey) Law 2002 (the “Law”).

In brief –

- Articles 24A to 24J relate to designated vendor directions. They enable the Minister for Sustainable Economic Development (the “Minister”) to designate vendors who supply goods, services or facilities to providers of public electronic communications networks (“PECN”) and providers of public electronic communications services (“PECS”), if the Minister considers the designation is necessary in the interests of the security of Jersey. The Minister may then issue a designated vendor direction to providers of PECN, providers of PECS and any person who makes associated facilities available for use in an electronic communications network or service, imposing requirements on them with respect to their use of the designated vendor’s goods, services or facilities.
- Schedule 1 contains compliance and enforcement provisions relating to designated vendor directions.
- Articles 24K to 24Z relate to security duties. They impose duties on the providers of PECN and PECS, requiring them to take steps to identify and mitigate the risks of security compromises occurring in relation to their PECN or PECS, and to take steps in response to any security compromise that occurs.
- Schedule 2 contains compliance and enforcement provisions relating to the security duties.
- Articles 24ZA to 24ZI are general provisions and provisions relating to both designated vendor directions and security duties. They include, for example, provisions about appeals and a provision enabling the Jersey Competition Regulatory Authority (the “JCRA”) to require information for the purposes of carrying out its functions under the Law.
- Schedule 3 contains compliance and enforcement provisions relating to the JCRA’s power to require information.

This Order commences provisions in the Regulations that –

- insert Articles 24A to 24J (the designated vendor provisions) and Schedule 1;
- insert Articles 24ZA to 24ZI (the general provisions) and Schedule 3; and
- make consequential amendments to the Law.

But this Order does not commence provisions in the Regulations that insert Articles 24K to 24Z (the security duties provisions), Schedule 2, or provisions in Articles 24A, 24ZA, 24ZC, 24ZF and 24ZI that only relate to the security duties provisions.

The Order was made on 16 September 2024 and came into force on the same day.

WRITTEN QUESTIONS
