

We are entitled to know what actual services will be at the hospital before agreeing to having to pay for it , it seems this is turning into a vanity project which is being pushed through before the next election.

How can it be allowed for the ministers to tell the other states members not to oppose their decision and bully them into submission.

Angela Le Bailly