The Human Resources Committee notes that the Housing Committee's Strategic Policy Report 2002-2006 states that any requests for additional manpower will be dependant on any increases in its rental stock, new States initiatives, or decisions on services to the public. The Human Resources Committee recognises that, at this strategic level, the report does not identify manpower requirements in any detail. The Committee will only be able to consider any additional manpower implications as and when more detailed plans are developed.
