

Dear Panel

I very much hope the 15mph speed limit for green lanes will not be changed, and that many more will be created over the years thus encouraging cycling and walking. In an island of this size there is no reason for feeling the need for speed, no journey can take more than 45 minutes.

I would further suggest that all those people who have said it is difficult to drive at 15mph be invited to take another driving test, as their car handling skills have to be questioned

yours sincerely

Rosemary Evans (Mrs)
