

I just cannot believe they are continuing with this ridiculous project. It is far too expensive and Jersey certainly does not need this grand scheme. We need to employ doctors and nurses and pay them a decent wage before this project goes ahead. The proposed new hospital is in totally the wrong place and should of been built on the Waterfront or where the ugly offices have been built - this would of been really handy for the bus station instead of being built on a hill which makes it inaccessible especially for those who do on drive. This project should be stopped and other cheaper locations considered. Why must Jersey always have to have the most expensive and "world class" - we just want a basic hospital with excellent doctors and nurses to look after us.
