

S15/8 (2)

From: Webster [mailto:webster@msn.com]
Sent: 08 February 2007 18:15
To: Scrutiny
Subject: New supermarket

This e-mail has been received directly from the Internet: you should exercise a degree of caution since there can be no guarantee that the source or content of the message is authentic.

If you receive inappropriate e-mail from an external source it is your responsibility to notify Computer Services Helpdesk (telephone 440440).

The Full States e-mail Usage Policy can be found here:
http://intranet1/aware/internet_email_issues.htm

Please, please, please give us a new supermarket, preferably one of the big UK ones and not some French outfit. We desperately need another contender to introduce competition and crucially more choice. There are so many things we don't see on the shelves here compared to the UK.

As a vegetarian I am astonished at the choice and variety of food available in the UK, all the major players have an excellent range of vegi foods.

As for traffic worries, there are only so many consumers and another supermarket would reduce the traffic attending the other supermarkets.

Please let us have a UK supermarket - if you dare!

Keith Webster,

cc: Scrutiny

Get Hotmail, News, Sport and Entertainment from MSN on your mobile. Click Here!

