

I am writing this on request of my family's behalf as some elderly don't have computer access.

All our family members have grave reservations with estimated level of spending the new hospital is costing. The burden on future generations is wrong.

When you see the designs and see large open spaces, open hallways and vast reception areas, this can only be unjustified expenditure, when space is of a premium and you are being charged by the contractors per square foot, re-design!

Jonathan Scriven