

Some pints to consider:

It's in the wrong place - waterfront or park would have been better.

It's too big and panders to private practice.

We need an amazing AandE, routine ops, and out patients, and a helicopter on the roof. All major ops go to Southampton.

We don't need to spend all that money just so that it's nice for the private patients and the cabal of Consultants.

We need a more equitable system more akin to the NHS.

Limit the budget and say what can you build for that - no more open ended budgets, and no more dilly dallying.

Paul Wallace-Sims