Fuel Price Comparison

Dear Deputy Tadier,

Thank you for your letter dated 21 July regarding fuel prices in Jersey.

Petrol and diesel prices are collected weekly by a member of the Jersey Consumer Council by calling each garage forecourt in the Island. We also spot check to ensure the information we are being given is correct. The prices we collate are then all published on prices.je and fortnightly in the Jersey Evening Post.

In the same section on the website, you can switch between the different fuel types, look at pricing trends and also learn about the various discount and loyalty schemes. We also explain the current levels of duty and taxes applied to each litre.

We currently do not have the resources to collate prices from UK garages to act as a comparison, although it has become very clear that in recent years the price of fuel in Jersey has caught up with the UK price, and in some instances overtaken it.

Whilst the fuel market always remains volatile, often with prices rising overnight in line with the price of oil, yet very slow to come down when the opposite happens, the local market remains competitive with a small number of fuel retailers regularly competing with one another to take the top spot. Therefore, we feel the limited service the Consumer Council is able to offer in this regard is having a marked impact on the local price of fuel for consumers, and it is something we will continue to do.

Many thanks,
