5. Briefing on the Jersey Opera House and Elizabeth Castle Officer Block Refurbishment The Panel received a briefing on the Jersey Opera House and Elizabeth Castle Officer Block Refurbishment. 6. Briefing on the Draft Unlawful Public Entertainment (Jersey) Regulations 202- The Panel received a briefing on the Unlawful Public Entertainment (Jersey) Regulations 202- (the Draft Regulations).

The Panel was advised that, as identified in correspondence from the Minister for Sustainable Economic Development, the Unlawful Public Entertainments (Jersey) Regulations (the Regulations) governed the licencing of public events in Jersey and that the Department for the Economy was undertaking work which included the drafting and lodging of bespoke events licencing legislation. The Panel was reminded that consultation with key stakeholders was anticipated and that the formation of the any legislation would likely take the remainder of the political term to complete. The Panel was informed that the Regulations were due to expire in July 2024 and, as such, the Draft Regulations were being produced to renew the Regulations for an additional three years and it was anticipated these would be lodged for a debate prior to the 2024 summer recess. A private detailed file note was made of the briefing, classified as exempt in accordance with Article 35 of the Freedom of Information (Jersey) Law 2011 (as amended). The Panel thanked the Departmental officers, who withdrew from the meeting. The Panel agreed that a letter would be sent to the Minister for Sustainable Economic Development questioning the proposal to extend the Regulations by 3 years.	AC

Under the Draft Cyber Security Law the Commissioner would hold statutory powers and responsibilities relating to cyber security in the Island, this included the necessity for Operators of Essential Services to report any cyber security instances to the Commissioner. The Panel was informed that the independence of the Commissioner from the Government of Jersey, Council of Ministers or States Assembly was vital in allowing adequate operation of that office, largely due to data sharing policy and the need for the ability to make any comments upon the operations of the Government of Jersey. The Panel was reassured that the Commissioner would not be serving as a regulatory body for cyber security, however the JCSC would offer guidance and support where necessary and that powers inferred by the Draft Law would be used only where necessary to gather sufficient information on cyber threats. The Panel was informed that Technical Advisory Councils (TAC) would be established to support the Commissioner with specialist advice as well as input on the work of JCSC and that a primary TAC would be established to aid in governance of the Commissioner. The Panel was advised that it was anticipated that the Draft Cyber Security Law would be lodged prior to the 2024 summer recess. The Panel was offered a visit to the JCSC and it agreed that this may be useful. A private detailed file note was made of the briefing, classified as exempt in accordance with Article 35 of the Freedom of Information (Jersey) Law 2011 (as amended).	PL

The Panel agreed that it would be useful to form a Comments Paper to aid in the debate of P.82/2023. Cognisant that the Environment, Housing and Infrastructure Panel was anticipated to produce a Comments Paper, the Panel agreed that its own would focus on elements within its remit, notably: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The prioritisation of sustainability, energy security or economic benefit</li> <li>• Use of public resources for economic gain</li> <li>• Portrayal of economic benefit within consultation</li> <li>• The need for further information to aid decision making</li> <li>• The need for future scrutiny of areas under the Panel's remit</li> </ul>	PL

Record of Meeting

Date: 19th June 2024

Present	Deputy Montfort Tadier, Chair Deputy Max Andrews Deputy Karen Wilson
Apologies	Deputy Geoff Southern, Vice Chair
In attendance	John Vautier, Sector Lead for Rural and Marine, Department for the Economy  Peter Lamy, Committee and Panel Officer Alexander Cameron, Research and Project Officer

Agenda matter	Action
1. Briefing on the Rural and Marine Sector The Panel received John Vautier (Sector Lead for Rural &amp; Marine), for a briefing on the Rural and Marine Sector. The Panel was informed that previously the Rural Economy Strategy had been in place for over 30 years through various updates, making it more mature than the marine sector. However, a slight change in policy was recognised in 2022, acknowledging that a changing world required a more dynamic approach. This shift began with a community research project and increased industry engagement in 2022. A key finding was that 99% of public respondents expected significant investment in the rural and marine industries that matched other economies. The Sector Lead discussed the Economic Frameworks for the Rural and Marine Environment (the Frameworks) which were subsequently published in 2022, which sought to provide clarity on projects and Government of Jersey interventions, divided into five areas: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Rural Governance: Management of the economy by Government, in both a local and international context.</li> <li>2. Support: A structure to provide direct financial support to the sectors in a manner compliant with international trade obligations.</li> <li>3. Resources Management: Ways in which to maintain and enhance the environment and ensure sustainable uses of resources.</li> <li>4. Communication and Marketing: Greater promotion of the sectors locally and internationally.</li> <li>5. Economic Development: policies for sustainable development of the sector, some requiring further research to be delivered throughout the life of the frameworks.</li> </ol> The Panel heard that the Frameworks had been designed to allow for more flexibility than previous strategies and that the components included were expected to be updated in 2024 following identification of improvement points. The Panel was informed that these updates would be undertaken with consideration of the wider policy context including:

- Common Strategic Policy
- Government Plan
- Performance Framework
- Future Economy Programme
- Bridging Island Plan
- Carbon Neutral Strategy and Energy Plan

The Panel was informed that 50% of the land in Jersey was agricultural with the Sector Lead highlighted that farmland remained viable only when farmers were available, and identified that this was a rapidly declining demographic and was the biggest risk faced by the sector. The Panel was advised that an overarching goal of the Government of Jersey was to ensure a sustainable local food system in 20-30 years, stabilising current practices while exploring alternative business models.

The Panel was advised that direct agriculture payments per capita in Jersey was well under the average of the European Union (EU), at around £35 compared to £120 per year with this raising to over £450 for countries such as Switzerland in 2023. The Panel was informed that following adoption of the proposition to increase revenue expenditure for agriculture and fisheries [\[P.74/2023\]](#) Jersey's annual payments per capita would be anticipated to rise to £60 per capita which would be in line with those in the United Kingdom (UK). The Panel ask if, with consideration of Gross Value Added (GVA), Jersey would rank even lower given its wealthy society and the Sector Lead confirmed this.

The Sector Lead then outlined the Rural Development Programme Budget, noting that Jersey opted not to fully join the EU in 1972 and presented a graph that showed industry support from the Government of Jersey peaked in 1993, reduced significantly by 2018, and had begun to rise again. The Panel was informed that efforts had been made to recognise the value and change terminology to reduce the stigma around subsidies.

The Panel asked about the dramatic change over time and the Sector Lead explained that in 2001 a watershed moment occurred when a new policy report was delivered to the Assembly of the day. The Sector Lead highlighted, however, that the subsequent funding proposition was rejected due to pressures on public finances.

The Panel heard that this coincided with a specific policy in 2002/03 addressing dairy farmers' overproduction and the roll-up of the glasshouse industry due to a lack of government interest and unjustifiable public money receipts.

The Panel was informed the tomato industry, once worth £25-30 million annually, and the flower industry had disappeared because the Government of Jersey had decided not to invest in them due to competition from subsidised EU producers and competition within the UK. The Panel was informed that Jersey had been at the forefront of biological control production in the 1990s, which was abandoned due to a lack of investment. It was opined to the Panel that this lack of investment had led to a significant reduction in potato farmers from 200 to 12.

The Sector lead then outlined agricultural costs and the minimum wage, noting a 20% increase in agricultural staff wages. The Sector Lead highlighted the complexities of this increase, with different cost ratios for livestock versus growing farms, indicating the need for detailed breakdowns before making decisions. Jersey crop exports by value were discussed, noting a decline in all but potatoes, with efforts underway to rebuild other produce. The dairy sector trends were also concerning, with a decline in producers from 50 to 12 since 2000. The Sector Lead acknowledged the unsustainability of the trend and noted a decline in the number of cows and heifers, despite maintaining the same productivity rate, which could be intensive.

The Rural Support Scheme (RSS), updated in 2023, was discussed. The Sector Lead highlighted the need for increased finance and a more sophisticated delivery mechanism with the scheme aiming to incorporate lessons learnt whilst considering how other jurisdictions, particularly in the EU and UK, had adapted by increasing investments.

The Panel was informed that the new RSS support scheme leveraged these insights to influence behaviours and outcomes positively with a credit-based scheme introduced to define public goods and metrics, allowing for scaled interventions that favoured smaller businesses, encouraged diversity, and was fair and accessible. The Panel heard that the RSS was focused on outcomes and enhancement, supporting a more resilient and sustainable agricultural sector.

The Sector Lead outlined several initiatives under the Rural Development Programme, including the establishment of a Rural Forum, a Land Data Platform, and Jersey Royal brand management.

The Panel was informed that agricultural loans, which were being phased out in 2022, would be reintroduced by the end of 2024 following the adoption of P.74/2023. The Panel was informed that the recently lodged proposition Draft Agriculture (Loans) (Jersey) Amendment Regulations 202-. [\[P.41/2024\]](#) would aid in agricultural loan acceptance by altering loan interest rates from 6% to 3%, based on historic levels. The Panel heard that this had been altered previously, with the rate being 15% in 1994.

The Panel was advised that P.41/2024 would also update regulations which required a loans board of 10 people to only require 5. The Panel's queried financial safeguards, and the Sector Lead assured the Panel that strict measurement criteria were in place to ensure loans were used properly and would only be issued following risk analysis. The Panel was further advised that loans would be issued for specific projects and investments rather than for the purpose of refinancing.

The Panel was informed that agricultural loans had historically preformed well, with only one default in the past. The Panel was further informed that it was anticipated that the initial refinancing of the Agricultural Loan Fund (the Fund) of £10 million would enable loans sufficiently, with repayments of loans allowing replenishment of the Fund over time.

When asked whether loans could be given to community interest companies without a farming track record, the Sector Lead confirmed openness to new ways of working, noting that the Frameworks includes components for private investment and social enterprises. The Panel questioned if there were potential contentions around the distribution of future loans and how public relations would be managed with the Sector Lead emphasising the need to change the public conversation from "giving money to farmers" to "paying for public goods." The Sector lead further opined that it was essential to define the value of these public goods and communicate that the investment brings more value than the initial outlay, focusing on improving services rather than just providing financial support.

The Panel confirmed that the team within the Economy Department focusing on the Rural and Marine Sector was made up of 2.5 Full Time Equivalent employees.

The Panel thanked the Sector Lead for their time and the meeting concluded.

A private detailed file note was made of the briefing, classified as exempt in accordance with Articles 34, and 35 of the Freedom of Information (Jersey) Law 2011 (as amended).

4. Draft Unlawful Public Entertainments (Jersey) Regulations 202-. Review meeting with Chief Officer of the Bailiff's Chambers The Panel welcomed Steven Cartwright, Chief Officer of the Bailiff's Chambers to discuss the Review. The Chief Officer offered apologies for not responding to the Panel's request for submission to the Review earlier, highlighting the required workload in organising the impending visit of Their Majesties the King and Queen. The Panel agreed that this was quite understandable and thanked the Chief Officer for attending the meeting.

Upon questioning from the Panel, the Chief Officer confirmed that the Bailiff's Chambers was generally accepting of the move of the entertainment permitting system away from those offices. However, this was caveated in that any new entertainment licensing system would need to maintain an equally robust process of reviewing proposed entertainments.

The Chief Officer confirmed that the Bailiff ultimately held responsibility for permitting of entertainments, however this was effectively delegated to the Bailiff's Chambers and the Bailiff's Public Entertainments Panel (Entertainments Panel). The Panel was informed that where an Entertainment Panel was minded to refuse an event the Bailiff would provide a final neutral decision on the matter. It was indicated to the Panel that this had only occurred once in memory, with the Bailiff maintaining the refusal to issue a permit.

The Chief Officer outlined that the Entertainments Panel met on a monthly basis and, when considering issuing entertainments permits, the Entertainments Panel's primary concern was that entertainments were run in a safe manner and to ensure that organisers and relevant stakeholders, such as the police, had a full understanding of potential risks and that mitigations for these had been undertaken. The Panel was advised that different types of events were intrinsically more risky, ranging from a food market to a larger entertainment in which alcohol or illicit drug use may be a concern.

The Panel was informed that on average a 6-month lead in time for a permit to be issued was required and that would include the organiser attending an interview with the Entertainments Panel where necessary. It was indicated to the Panel that where possible an indicative approval was given; however, a permit might be issued the week, or day, prior to the entertainment. It was highlighted that an issued permit could be removed at any point, should issues with the organisation of the entertainment arise or if any of the agreed safety measures were contravened.

The Panel was informed that site visits would be undertaken where necessary, and that those operating within the events industry would identify any potential issues at times. The Panel was advised that where issues were identified in the entertainment's application, or during the entertainment itself, these were usually rectified in a swift manner and these entertainments would be allowed to continue accordingly. The Panel heard that in cases in which issues had been identified, and accordingly rectified, a de-brief session with the organiser would be held following the entertainment.

The Panel was informed that applications for holding entertainments could come from those with varying levels of experience in hosting relevant events and that often an entertainment would grow in size as this experience was increased.

The Panel questioned the cost of the permitting system and it was highlighted by the Chief Officer that charges in other jurisdictions, such as the United Kingdom, were higher, with some charging per Police Officer needed to attend the entertainment. The Chief Officer indicated that consideration of costs of a new permitting system would be required, however, charging based on event size may not be seen as beneficial.

The Chief Officer opined that it would be sensible to maintain a single authority in the decision to issue an entertainments permit and that this responsibility could be held by the Government of Jersey or an independent commission. It was highlighted to

the Panel that any new entertainments permitting system would require a dedicated Officer and that it would be important to maintain a neutral decision-making process free of political restriction. It was further indicated to the Panel that this would likely require clear issuing guidelines to be put in place.

The Panel thanked the Chief Officer for their time and the meeting was closed.

The Panel discussed its Draft Unlawful Public Entertainments (Jersey) Regulations 202- Review (the Review) following conclusion of the Review.
The Panel agreed that the Review had been successful in achieving its objectives, however identified that it would have been beneficial to have received evidence from a broader range of stakeholders acknowledging that this had not been possible due to the short timeframe in which the Review had been undertaken.
The Panel recalled that a recommendation included within its Comments Paper ( P.24/2024(Com) ) had requested that the Minister for Sustainable Economic Development, by 31st August 2024, indicate by way of a public letter his proposed timeframe for consultations, production of Law Drafting Instructions, debate and implementation of an updated public entertainments permitting system and associated legislation. The Panel agreed that this would be discussed in due course and future questions on the topic would be included within relevant hearings.	PL

The Panel agreed that this should be amended and agreed that due to the lack of clarity around specific funding agreements, for which negotiations were ongoing, a lowering of the proposed reduction to £285,000 would be sensible to enable appropriate funding of the organisations whilst being mindful of the saving aspirations of the Government of Jersey. The Panel discussed lodging separate Amendments to enable the States Assembly to debate for a reduction in the savings anticipated from each of the organisations. The Panel agreed that a single Amendment to alter the Economic Development, Tourism, Sport &amp; Culture Head of Expenditure should be formed, mindful that negotiations between the Minister for Sustainable Economic Development, Government Officers, Digital Jersey and Jersey Business were ongoing and that figures based upon existing core grants and ability to meet the saving requirements would be best undertaken by those stakeholders. The Panel discussed where the funding for the proposed Amendment should be taken from, noting that the Department for the Economy was already due to make significant efficiency savings within the proposed Budget. The Panel agreed that the proposed Amendment should be funded through a reduction in the Central Reserve Head of Expenditure. The Panel approved the final Amendment as detailed above, along with the accompanying Report and the Children’s Rights Impact Assessment, agreeing it should be lodged to the States. The Panel requested that the Officer make the necessary arrangements.	PL
